A BORROWED PROMISE

A Borrowed Promise
Original Mixed Media in Shadowbox Frame

A Borrowed Promise is a one-of-a-kind mixed-media original by Atlanta artist Linwood, thoughtfully presented in a museum-style shadowbox frame that enhances its depth and layered construction. Blending expressive abstraction with poetic storytelling, the piece invites viewers to explore the quiet relationship between memory, movement, and the promises we carry through life.

The composition balances two distinct visual conversations: a softly layered field of handwritten notes and gestural sketches contrasts with sweeping ribbons of fluid line work that move rhythmically across the canvas. Linwood's signature casual calligraphy, collaged materials, and textured surfaces create an evolving landscape where each viewing reveals new details hidden beneath the layers.

Framed within a deep shadowbox, A Borrowed Promise becomes both artwork and object, celebrating the dimensional quality of Linwood's mixed-media process while making a refined statement in residential or commercial interiors.

Overall Framed Size: 40.5" × 21.5"
