ALL THAT REMAINS I

All That Remains I — DJE Original
Shadowbox Framed Original Art

Tender and contemplative, All That Remains I explores what lingers after a moment has passed—the fragments of memory, emotion, and connection that remain quietly present.

A field of circular marks drifts across the composition, moving from saturated rose and blush into soft ivory and white. Their repetition creates a gentle rhythm, while variations in scale, color, and placement give each form an individual presence. Like traces of something once whole, they gather, scatter, and fade across the surface.

Layers of dusty pink, coral, muted blue, and warm neutral tones create an atmospheric ground, while a sweeping curved form along the edge introduces a sense of something larger extending beyond the canvas. A single crimson accent anchors the composition, adding a deliberate point of contrast within the softness.

A poetic original—layered, reflective, and filled with the beauty of what endures.
