

CROSSING PATHS AGAIN

Crossing Paths Again — DJE Original

18" x 22" | Framed Original Art

Minimal in form yet rich in meaning, Crossing Paths Again explores the quiet significance of two lives, ideas, or moments finding their way back to one another. Two bold, imperfect forms—one rendered in deep charcoal, the other in luminous white—overlap at the center, creating a composition defined by connection.

Against a softly textured ground of warm ivory and stone, the contrasting lines feel both graphic and deeply human. Their hand-worked edges preserve the artist's gesture, allowing the simplicity of the composition to carry an emotional weight beyond its restrained palette.

Presented in a warm gold frame, Crossing Paths Again balances modern simplicity with tactile depth, creating a quietly commanding presence.

Framed size: 18 x22
