

JUST DID NOT

Just Did Not

Saturated blues move forcefully across the canvas, layered with quick, gestural strokes and restless lines that feel both urgent and unresolved. Moments of red and black punctuate the composition, adding tension and contrast within the otherwise fluid field. At its core, the piece captures a fragment of thought—just did not—left intentionally incomplete, as if the sentence trails off before resolution.

Beautifully Shadowbox framed in white: 24 x 30
