

NATURAL HIGH

A sense of elevation and ease defines Natural High, where fluid, looping forms rise in quiet symmetry across a softly layered ground. Two vertical streams of continuous linework—at once structured and instinctive—create a rhythmic ascent, suggesting breath, energy, and an almost meditative lift.

Rendered in a palette of washed blues, chalky whites, and subtle blush undertones, the surface feels atmospheric and light-filled. The painterly background carries visible movement, while the looping forms—thicker, more deliberate—float forward, creating a gentle interplay between depth and gesture. Occasional circular accents punctuate the flow, acting as moments of pause within the upward motion.
