THE HEART WANTS A SONG

The Heart Wants a Song
Original Mixed Media on Canvas

The Heart Wants a Song is an expressive original by Atlanta artist Linwood that transforms movement into emotion through sweeping ribbons of color and layered abstraction. Flowing bands of deep burgundy, soft blush, and slate blue weave across a textured gray ground, creating a rhythmic composition that feels both musical and meditative.

At the center of the canvas, the handwritten phrase "The Heart Wants a Song" emerges quietly from beneath the layers, inviting reflection on joy, longing, and the melodies that shape our lives. Linwood's signature casual calligraphy, graphite sketches, and collaged elements remain partially concealed, encouraging viewers to linger as new details reveal themselves over time. The recurring bateau motif, subtly integrated into the composition, continues the artist's enduring metaphor for life's journey.
