THOUGH THE MOON FALLS

Though the Moon Falls moves through tension and quiet resolve—an abstract reflection on disruption, gravity, and continuity. A layered ground of cool greys, muted blues, and soft greens creates a shifting atmosphere, where forms feel both anchored and in motion.

Dark, grounded forms punctuate the composition, counterbalancing the fluidity of the lines and lending weight to the otherwise airy field. Linwood's signature language is evident in the layering, the interplay between control and spontaneity, and the quiet symbolism that unfolds over time rather than at once.

Contemplative and atmospheric, Though the Moon Falls invites slow looking—an artwork that holds both motion and stillness, bringing depth and subtle energy to the space it inhabits.
