WONDERMENT RENEWED

Wonderment Renewed
Mixed Media on Canvas

Wonderment Renewed captures the return of curiosity—the moment when perception shifts and the familiar feels newly alive. A luminous field of soft neutrals, pale blues, and washed tones creates an open, atmospheric ground, layered with gestural marks, sketch-like lines, and fluid passages of color.

Movement flows across the canvas in sweeping arcs and calligraphic gestures, while areas of density—deep blacks, blush reds, and layered textures—anchor the composition with moments of intensity. Drips and softened edges suggest time and transformation, as if the surface has been continuously worked and rediscovered.

At its center, the handwritten word—wonderment—emerges as both anchor and invitation, reinforcing the emotional tone of rediscovery and openness. Linwood's signature language is evident throughout: expressive line, layered surfaces, and a balance between control and spontaneity.
