

YOU SOMEWHERE UNKNOWN

You Somewhere Unknown

You Somewhere Unknown unfolds like a quiet search—an abstract meditation on distance, memory, and the spaces between what is known and what remains just out of reach. A layered field of warm neutrals, soft blush, pale blue, and muted greys creates an expansive, atmospheric ground, where forms emerge and dissolve in equal measure.

Gestural marks, faint structures, and scattered punctuations move across the canvas like fragments of thought or coordinates without a fixed destination. To one side, a saturated, dripping form introduces tension and emotional weight, while quieter passages offer moments of stillness and pause. Subtle text and calligraphic gestures appear and recede, suggesting presence without full clarity.
